

Dillon Reed

Originally from Jacksonville, Florida, Reed spent 2 years at Sante Fe Community College in Gainesville, Florida where he batted .323 during his career across 223 ABs. As a Sante Fe Saint, Reed scattered 12 doubles, 3 triples, 5 home runs, with 40 RBIs, 27 BBs, and 20 stolen bases during his two years. Reed's career slugging percentage was .471. In the outfield, he had a fielding percentage of .971 across 102 attempts.

His freshman year, Reed helped the Saints win a Mid Florida Conference Championship along with a FCSAA/NJCAA Region 8 title where the Saints advanced to the NJCAA World Series. After his sophomore season he was named Second Team All-State and earned First-Team All-Mid-Florida Conference Honors. Reed and the Saints went on to win a Mid-Florida Conference title and finished third place in the FCSAA Region 8 tournament.

After Sante Fe, Reed transferred to Flagler College in St. Augustine, Florida. As a Flagler Saint, Reed batted .314 during his career across 407 ABs. He scattered 19 doubles, 2 triples, and 5 HRs with 64 RBIs, 80 BBs and 19 stolen bases during his final two years. In the field, Reed had a career fielding percentage of .968 across 126 attempts. His junior year he was selected to the 2018 All-PBC Second Team and was a PBC Presidential Honor Roll Presidential Scholar. During his senior year he was named to the PBC Presidential Honor Roll Bronze Scholar.

During his collegiate career, Reed worked with multiple players individually and in group clinics. He enjoys providing instruction on hitting and fielding. Reed graduated with a degree in Business Administration and is currently the graduate assistant for Missouri Southern State Baseball team where he is pursuing his master's in management.